

LANDSCAPE RESOURCES

DLC Resources, Inc.

www.dlcresources.com

You can find more than just company information on our Web site; there is a complete library of landscape articles DLC has written for homeowners to help manage the landscaping in their own yard.

Water Use It Wisely

www.wateruseitwisely.com

This site offers hundreds of ways to save water, desert landscape guides, educational tools, a family water audit, suggested low water use plants, and much more.

University of Arizona Cooperative Extension

www.ag.arizona.edu/maricopa/garden

Interested in home horticulture? Use this resource to learn more about environmentally responsible gardening and landscaping in the low desert.

City of Mesa

www.mesaaz.gov/conservation/

The City of Mesa Web site features valuable information about water conservation. Help conserve water by taking advantage of this tremendous resource.

Desert Botanical Garden

www.dbg.org

This is a wonderful botanical garden committed to the advance of excellence in education, research, exhibition and conservation of desert plants from all over the world.

Arizona Department of Water Resources

www.azwater.gov/dwr/drought/Resources

The Arizona Department of Water Resources publishes several magazines on water conservation and desert plants, all of the same information and more can be found on their Web site.

